Arete

...a full and flourishing life...

Assumption College Warwick

ASSUMPTION COLLEGE WARWICK

Arete

Arete is an ancient Greek concept that speaks of excellence and virtue. It is grounded in the belief in the full realisation of one's potential and is the highest quality state one can reach.

Introduction by Chair of the College Advisory Council

It is with profound respect that I introduce the Strategic Plan for Assumption College, Warwick, spanning from 2025 to 2028.

This plan, titled Arete – a full and flourishing life, is a testament to the unwavering dedication and enthusiasm of the Assumption College executive leadership team and staff. Their commitment to excellence in education is the cornerstone upon which this strategic vision is built. It is their tireless work that enables students at Assumption College to strive towards the ancient Greek ideal of Arete, the fullest realisation of their potential, embodying excellence and virtue.

Assumption College is a distinctively Catholic learning community; one that is sustained by the Gospel message of Truth and Love and the traditions of Catherine McAuley and Edmund Rice. Its mission breathes life into the values of wisdom, justice, generosity and compassion, fostering full and flourishing lives for all community members. Upon this strong foundation lies this four-year strategic plan with strong intentions for growth and excellence - spiritually, academically, personally, environmentally and economically - which are complemented by aspirational yet achievable strategies and standards. It is these aspects, including fostering curiosity and awe, providing individualised learning pathways, and celebrating academic success that will see the College continue its journey with faith and confidence, knowing that their efforts today will bear fruit for years to come.

I extend my deepest gratitude to everyone who has contributed to the development of the Strategic Plan. This dedication is the driving force behind Assumption College's collective pursuit of Arete, which will continue to inspire and empower students and staff to lead full and flourishing lives.

Strategic Plan 2025 - 2028

For 2025 – 2028, the College will be undertaking the challenges, opportunities and vision outlined in our Strategic Plan.

In the construction of this Plan, the College considered our charism, our mission, our vision, our values and ultimately the question, "What does the realisation of this Plan lead us to be?"

Our response is, Arete.

Arete is a pivotal sense of being in ancient Greek philosophy. It encompasses the notion of reaching one's highest potential and living to one's fullest capacity and capabilities. This includes a life lived through moral virtues, such as justice, generosity and compassion, as well as intellectual pursuits, such as wisdom and truth-telling. It challenges us to live a life of purpose, with Arete being achieved when we

- uphold dignity and respect for all
- meet challenges with courage and opportunities with curiosity
- pursue greatness by supporting the vulnerable through acts of service and advocate for social justice and human rights, fostering a sense of belonging and support.

Assumption College is grounded in the charisms of Catherine McAuley, founder of the Sisters of Mercy, and Edmund Rice, founder of the Christian Brothers. These individuals call us to a lived understanding of Arete. Lives that are steeped in service to the poor and vulnerable, to act with kindness and patience, and to be committed to the creation of inclusive communities through justice and hospitality. This is achieved through the provision of an education that liberates and empowers all.

Arete, Assumption College and the mission of Toowoomba Catholic Schools are in perfect harmony and alignment. By living a life that strives for excellence in virtue, purpose and service, our students and community will realise Arete - full and flourishing lives.
